WE NOMINATE

The 150 or more Princeton youngsters, ranging in age from 12 to 18, who this month have brought into being a new community service organization, the Interdenominational Youth Fellowship of Princeton. Drawing its support and membership from nine Princeton churches and urging representatives of other congregations to join forces with it, the newly constituted group has drafted plans for a constructive rather than a destructive Halloween and has announced that the Fellowship's membership on Sunday, October 31st, will devote all of its "Trick or Treat" energies to canvassing the Princeton area for the benefit of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

In reviving a UNICEF All Hallows' Eve, which was successfully introduced here two years ago and permitted to lapse last Fall, these young men and women accepted the initial suggestions of the adult advisers in their respective churches and then began to gallop ahead on their own. Beyond next week's initial venture lies the strong possibility of a kind of Young People's Inter-Church Council, the equivalent of a permanent coordinating agency charged with planning community events that could be more effectively sponsored by a group of churches than they could be by an individual parish.

Participation in UNICEF, the world's largest international effort for child welfare, is proving to be an excellent "trial horse" for the new Fellowship, for it means time-consuming meetings and briefing sessions as well as the assumption of responsibility for the myriad and often unrelated details which make or break any fund-raising campaign. One adult adviser chortles, "These boys and girls are even using their own contacts and knowledge of Princeton to lay the groundwork for Halloween." One boy lined up the cardboard containers that will be used by the 200 solicitors, another supervised the necessary mapwork when it came to plotting the areas that must be covered and others made the arrangements for the final preparatory gathering at the First Presbyterian Church this coming Sunday evening.

Next Sunday's "Trick-or-Treaters" — representing the three Presbyterian Churches (First, Second and Witherspoon), the First Baptist and Penns Neck Baptist Churches, the Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, the Jewish Center and the Unitarian Church—will make their rounds between 6:00 and 8:00 p.m., will "work" their districts by teams and upon the completion of their missions will converge upon the First and Second Churches for Halloween refreshments. On the basis of preliminary interviews with the youthful participants, it is safe to predict that the Halloween volunteers will have no difficulty in explaining the significance of their UNICEF arm-bands which read, "For all the World's Children."

For their enthusiasm for extending a helping hand to others; for demonstrating that the upcoming generation will respond just as readily as any of its predecessors to understanding and intelligent leadership; for giving Princeton good reason to look to the future with every confidence in its citizens of tomorrow; these young men and women are TOWN TOPICS' nominees for Murder. At 12:30 a.m. Wednesday, Cornelius M. J. Cavanaugh, 53, Rocky Hill Road, Kingston, clutching the lapels of his blue jacket over his face to avoid photographers, was led to a cell in the Borough jail after having confessed to the soda pop bottle murder of his wife, Emma, 48, of Laurel Road, Kingston.

Behind the story lies a web of drinking, marital strife and problems with children.

Not since 1948 when a New York broker was shot to death in his car by an angered business partner had this community been the scene of a murder, and this week's crime was surpassed by none in recent memory for misery and pointlessness.

In a brief question-and-answer period with newsmen early Wednesday morning, Acting Police Chief John H. Smith outlined the central facts of the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh had since Sunday been acting as "baby-sitters" for two grandsons, children of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney C. Richards of 17 North Harrison Street.

Shortly after 9 p.m. on Monday, while her husband was asleep, Mrs. Cavanaugh left with David Donald, 45, of 27 Witherspoon Street, and the two visited several bars.

At about 2 a.m. Tuesday, Cavanaugh awoke and had "a few glasses of wine," Chief Smith reported. At this time, Mrs. Cavanaugh returned and an arguement ensued on the back porch of the North Harrison Street home.

Cavanaugh accused his wife of not taking proper care of their grandchildren. According to his confession, she fled and Cavanaugh threw a soda pop bottle after her. He then chased her and struck her from behind several times with another bottle.

Cavanaugh attempted to get the injured woman to come into the house, but she told him to "get away," Chief Smith said. He returned to the house and fell asleep in a chair downstairs.

In the morning, he roused their 13-year-old son, Jackie, to get ready for school. At 7:55 the youngster found the body of his mother collapsed against a fence 30-feet from the Richards home in the 11-unit veterans housing project.

Cavanaugh and Donald were taken into custody at about 10 a.m. Tuesday. The latter was later dismissed as a suspect but is being held as a material witness.

Chief Smith related that Cavanaugh, a former painter on the Princeton University grounds and buildings staff, early in the questioning attempted to incriminate Donald, whom he knew was a friend of his wife.

After denying the crime for more than eight hours, Cavan-

Journalistic Statistics

The current issue of Town Topics, running to 28 pages, is the largest newspaper ever published in Princeton. Containing 2,100 column inches, it includes more than 400 display and classified advertisements and some 14,000 words of news about the Princeton community.

In its present size, Town Topics is ten times larger than the issues published when it first appeared in March, 1946. In order to maintain a proper balance between news and advertising, it was necessary to reject more than a page of display advertisements. It will be greatly appreciated if individuals and business firms planning to reserve space will do so by Friday of the week preceding publication.

augh finally confessed, Chief Smith said. The interrogation and investigation was conducted by Patrolmen Stanley Donald, Arthur Gallant and Frank Maguire, Sgt. Frank Bird, Detectives Charles Clowes and Henry W. Miller of the Mercer County Prosecutor's office, ns well as Chief Smith.

Cavanaugh was scheduled to be arraigned on a charge of murder Wednesday afternoon before Borough Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro.

Autopsy was performed by Dr. Leonard M. Berry, a deputy Mercer County coroner. He found that death had occurred in the early morning from a cerebral hemorrage caused by the bottle gashes.

Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh had been separated during various periods, and police said Mr. and Mrs. Richards are also separated. Other Cavanaugh children include Mary Cecilia, Cornelius E., Thomas J. and William D.

Hazel Huffs. The violent winds of hurricane Hazel over the weekend failed to uproot as many trees as the "Dartmouth Hurricane" of 1950, but damages to big branches may ultimately mean an equally severe loss to the community's highly-valued tree population.

I. Russell Riker, Borough engineer, pointed to the fact that the 1950 blow totally soaked the ground, which caused more uprooting, while Hazel simply snapped off branches. Mr. Riker expects that when all the storm debris is cleared away by the end of the week, "the pile will be as high as Borough Hall and will cover a full acre of land."

A parade of borough, state and county trucks and workmen have been clearing the fallen branches, and Mr. Riker reported that the road-blocking fallen trees on Friday night were at least partially removed in short order, so that traffic was able to keep moving. While the falling foliage broke many power and telephone lines, Mr. Riker said that the damage to houses was less than that of 1950 storm.

New Jersey Bell Telephone Company reported that the peak of out-of-order telephones was 1,100 and crews of 175 men were able to put all but a few lines back in service over the weekend.

Public Service had a peak total of 5,000 customers without service as lines in 75 different locations went down. Steady work with the aid of crews from out of town enabled the company to put all but a few homes back in order by Tuesday, ending distress of freezer owners and other homemakers.

On the University Campus, six trees went down and another half dozen were so badly damaged that the loss in Princeton's highly-prized tree crop may eventually be as great or greater than that of the Dartmouth Hurricane. Numerous minor damages have been recorded.

It's New to Us

On the Shelf. They were piling baby food on the shelves when we climbed over the carpenters and the electricians to examine the new super-market on Nassau Street; Davidson's, at 172 Nassau. You may examine it yourself when it opens next Tuesday. (Free parking in the rear, clear to Park Place.)

New painting, new lighting and new equipment have brought some changes to the premises. A soft aqua green paint has been used in the front of the store; yellow at the back and yellow over the ceiling. Lighting is fluorescent, arranged in tubes that traverse the length of the store.

Steel shelves are white, green, salmon, yellow or tan, all banded with chrome, and quite the latest in super-market design, according to Mr. Simon, the store manager. Check-out counters have been designed with motorized belts for groceries, to save wear and tear on the cashiers.

Installed in all this splendor are all the national food brands, specialties like dietetic foods, some Kosher-style products, a full delicatessen and of course, a big freezer full of frozen delicacies—blintzes, pizzas and more mundane packages. The meat counter is self service, but Davidson's will give custom service in meat cutting if you ask for it.

This new store is the fifth in the Davidson group. The first one was started 40 years ago in New Brunswick by two brothers: A. H. Davidson and H. Davidson. Today they work with L. Davidson (son of H. and nephew of A. H.) in the operation of stores in Red Bank, Perth Amboy, Little Silver and New Brunswick.

Dream World. Last time we went to Pastimes at Washington Crossing, we found a four-poster mahogany doll's bed, two by four feet in size with a white organdy tester and spread. We looked for it again this time and, like Goldilocks, found not only the big bed but smaller ones as well, down to a tiny one that fits a Ginny doll. (Pastimes now has blanket and sheet sets: $2.50 for the big bed, $2.10 for the next size down.)

Ginny is the pampered lady in the doll corner. Not only does she have a bed, she also has a dining table and chairs in mahogany and a sizable dresser for a fabulous wardrobe.

Next to her on the doll counter are rag dolls with sweet painted faces and Alice-in-Wonderland hair. Italian stuffed dolls only eight inches high, are labeled "Concursos Vivientes." They have wicked Latin eyes and an undisciplined air. For $4.95.

A puppet stage offers another kind of doll play. This stage, made in Nuremberg, has lengthwise slits on its floor. The four-inch dolls have slender coiled springs extending down from their feet.

You insert the spring into the slot on the floor and operate the puppet from below. Because the operating device is a spring, not a rigid piece of metal, you can make your puppet bounce, kneel, dance and do all sorts of tricks, so long as he doesn't leave the floor.

Dolls to perform in this theater are circus clowns or story book favorites: prince and princess, Red Riding Hood, Bo-peep and so on. The stage is $9.95 and it's bare, so that a child may make his own scenery.

A boy who scorns this sort of fancy may invest $5.98 in an "All-American Football Set" with helmet and shoulder pads. If he really plays rough, he will want a heavier leather helmet for $5.95, a brilliant polished blue on the outside.

The smallest boxing gloves in the whole Pastimes collection are boxed together with a pair of minute crimson satin trunks for $4.95. Punching bag is $4.95, too, and of course there are gloves that go up to big boys' sizes.

We found, in the Cowboy and Indian country, a pair of the toughest holsters this side of Tombstone, (complete with two six-shooters). In black or white leather, they are trimmed with enough chrome to blind a man, before he could even draw. For $9.95.

Desperadoes, once lassoed, may be housed in a corrugated cardboard Sheriff's office ($3.95) consisting of two rooms: office (with gun rack and peg for posses' hats) and jail, ferociously barred and made secure with an immense cardboard padlock.

Day School was forced to cancel its "Country Dance at Country Day" on Friday evening when hurricane conditions reached their peak. The dance is being re-planned for next spring.

On the other hand, Princeton's Ground Observer Corps was able to keep the post manned despite the emergency conditions. During much of the hurricane, no electric power was available and the post was without communications with Trenton air filter center.

Ready by '56. Having won its campaign to gain approval for an expanded high school, the borough Board of Education will now busy itself with detailed plans for the enlarged building. Last Thursday's vote, which brought out more than 25% of the municipality's registered voters, was 1080 in favor and 277 against.

B. Woodhull Davis, Supervising Principal of Schools, said this week that specifications for the $1,770,000 expansion program will be completed by the first of the year. The contracts will be advertised for bids about February 1, with actual renovation and new construction expected to start a month later. Completion of the program, which is planned to enlarge the school's capacity to 1,500, is scheduled for the fall of 1956.

Auto Accident Fatal. Howard L. Dugger, 31-year old veteran of World War II, whose home was at 12 Leigh Avenue, was killed Tuesday morning in an accident in Trenton. Police said that he stepped into the path of a tractor-trailer on the Freeway.

Death was caused by a fractured skull and internal injuries. Mr Dugger is survived by his German warbride, Roselle, whose address was given as 707 E. State Street, Trenton.

Second Candidates Meeting. Princeton area voters will have an opportunity to meet county and municipal candidates at a meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of the Princeton Community Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Nassau Street Elementary School auditorium.

Freeholder candidates invited to attend are Democrats John Curry and Harry E. Lieberman and Republicans Andrew K. Dutch and Theodore D. Fitzgeorge. Borough Council nominees who will attend the meeting are Democrats John J. Collins and Miss Lawrence Norris and Republicans Tristam B. Johnson and Charles J. Rorknak.

Democratic Township Committee candidates in attendance will be John F. McCarthy, Jr., Robert W. Sinkler and Theodore T. Tams, Jr., while Republican nominees who will appear at the meeting are Ralph S. Mason, Albert Salzman and Hugh D. Wise. These candidates will be asked questions concerning their ideas on zoning and planning for a growing Princeton.

The Freeholder nominees will discuss child welfare as administered by the State and municipality. Candidates for Borough Council will be queried on their opinions as to the Borough's most important problem.

Democrats Active. Adlai E. Stevenson will make a brief appearance in Princeton as one of four events planned by Democrats here for the coming week.

The stop by the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate will occur at 5 p.m. next Thursday at Palmer Square, with Mr. Stevenson expected to make a few comments. He will be enroute to Trenton with Democratic candidates Charles R. Howell and Frank Thompson and Mercer County chairman Thorn Lord of Province Line Road.

The Democrats were also scheduled to hold a rally for local candidates this Thursday at 8 at the Masonic Temple, John and Maclean Streets, and again next Tuesday evening at 8 in the Chestnut Street Firehouse.

With a slogan of "Drop a dollar in the hat, help elect a Democrat" party workers will solicit contributions this Friday with improvised "hat boxes." Half the receipts will go towards the Democratic National Committee and half towards the expenses of candidates here.

Contents of the hats will be counted Friday evening by a committee headed by Stanley Ackley. A bottle of perfume donated by Freeholder Edward A. Thorne, Nassau Street druggist, will be presented to the lady with the greatest contributions by Frank Thompson, Democratic Congressional candidate from this district.

Cars Damaged In Hurricane Sent To Markets Here

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14—Hurricane-damaged automobiles — each of which can be expected to give its owner trouble — are being shipped from New England States to Philadelphia for sale to unsuspecting buyers the Better Business Bureau disclosed yesterday.

The first shipment—nearly 200 and most of them new—arrived recently and is being prepared for marketing in this area. Additional shipments are expected.

About 20,000 were damaged in the most recent hurricane, Verner Gaggin, general manager of the Better Business Bureau said.

TRADE-INS RESOLD

Claims on about 90% of the cars submerged by salt water have been paid in full by insurance companies. Owners then traded in their cars for new ones. Many of the old cars have been sold to junk dealers and then resold to dealers in other States, Gaggin pointed out.

"In cases where the damaged car has been repainted and the upholstery thoroughly cleaned and the sand, salt and silt blown from all crevices, the purchaser has little or no chance of discovering whether he is buying a hurricane-damaged vehicle," Gaggin said.

Salt water, he pointed out, can seriously pit gears, bearings and other vital mechanisms.

Purpose of the meeting is to present Richard J. Coffee, J. Russell Smith and Lloyd A. Carver, Democratic candidates for the Township committee and co-chairmen of the rally. Other Democratic candidates who will appear are Freeholders John Curry and Harry Lierberman, Surrogate William J. Conner, Assemblyman Frank Thompson and Congressman Charles R. Howell.

Members of the committee for the event are Owen R. Healey, Peter J. Russo, Joseph T. Barber, Harold D. Coleman, Pasquale Colavita, John Malone, Charles P. Hirsch, Charles J. Draine, Joseph Holland, Joseph Mahan, Gerald Festa, C. W. Simmons, Frank J. Backes, Francis J. Strapp, Miss Barbara Vosek, Miss Delores Constance, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Majeski, John Harrison, Mrs. Coffee, Mrs. Margaret O'Neill, Dominick Chiacchio, Mrs. Carver, John Philkill and Miss Itza Kiszely.

Political Opinions

Republicans and Democrats have again taken their stand on opposite sides of the political fence in this week's issue of TOWN TOPICS. The first of two sets of columns in the "Why I Plan to Vote" series appears on page 17.

Writing on behalf of Representative Clifford Case is Mrs. Martha R. Holmes of 48 Dorann Avenue, wife of a research engineer at the RCA Laboratories. She is a member of the newly-formed Young Republican Club of Princeton.

J. Shane Nicholls, Jr., of 166 Stockton Street, new to Princeton but a New Jersey resident for 18 years, gives his support to Congressman Charles R. Howell, the Democratic candidate for Senator. Mr. Nicholls is former chairman of the Industrial Tape Corporation of New Brunswick and past president of that city's Chamber of Commerce.

Democrats Hold Edge. The New Jersey Poll this week reported that voter sentiment on Congressional races over the state continues to favor the Democrats. The margin is exactly the same as a month ago, 52% for the Democrats and 48% for the Republicans.

The figures represent a 9.4% loss for the GOP and a corresponding gain for their opponents over the peak Republican sentiment shown in the 1952 election. The vote two years ago was 57.4% Republican and 42.6% Democratic.

The state's present Congressional line-up includes eight Republicans and six Democrats. The

New Jersey Poll in its report stressed that its findings reflect statewide sentiment and cannot be applied to any single district.

The poll's final survey of the Case-Howell Senatorial race will appear in TOWN TOPICS next week.

Observation of UN Day. United Nations Day will be observed Sunday at 4 with a program to take place in the Princeton University Chapel. The churches of Princeton and the Student Christian Association are sponsoring the event, at which Senator H. Alexander Smith of Princeton will be the speaker.

The flags of 63 nations will be displayed in front of the Chapel, while the procession will include 27 undergraduates at Princeton who are natives of as many different lands. The Rev. Dr. Donald B. Aldrich, Dean of the Chapel, will conduct a brief service, with Senator Smith speaking in commemoration of UN Day. (For a Princeton salute to the United Nations, see page 21.)

Charter Review Plans. The first of five meetings planned by the UN Charter Review Committee of Princeton was held Monday night at the Second Presbyterian

We have been doing some heavy thinking about the best kiod of leisure shirt for winter. Just because the temperature goes down to zero outdoors—is no reason for wearing a thick heavy shirt indoors.

We suggest one of our new Hathaway Viyellas. They are 55% wool for pleasant warmth; 45% cotton for strength and washability. They seem to fit our way of life rather perfectly; and, of course, they look terrific.

Church, with Professor Roy E. Buckinghnm of Cooper Union the speaker. Members of the committee, who will urge revision during 1955, are preparing a statement to be sent to Secretary Dulles and Senator Wylie's Subcommittee on Charter Revision.

Mrs. Mary E. Hoadley and Miss Helen Hoadley, co-chairmen of the committee, were present, as was Harland W. Holsington, Jr., President of United World Federalists in Princeton. Other members present were Howard Felsher, Miss Dorothy di Chiara, Mrs. Jean G. Arrott, Mrs. Walter Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Bedford, Schuyler Christian and Mrs. Donald C. Norris. At its next meeting, the committee will formulate its opinion on the membership articles of the UN Charter.

Injuries Bring $15,000. William Reiszer, six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Reiszer of Cherry Valley Road, was awarded $7,500 this week in an out-of-court settlement of a suit following injuries sustained in an automobile accident in August, 1952. His father received a like sum for medical expenses incurred in treating the boy.

New Activities Book

An enlarged Princeton Activities Book has been placed in the Borough Public Library for the use of organizations throughout the community. The Council of Community Services, which has furnished the book, reports that the volume is three times as large as the one used last year.

All organizations are urged to enter their activities in the book in order to keep conflicting meetings at a minimum and provide individuals with a means of checking times and locations of meetings. Information on the project should be obtained by calling Mrs. Jan A. Rajchman (0695) rather than the library.

The youngster was struck by a car driven by Ogden Embley of Hopewell while crossing the road near his home. Police said that Mr. Embley was driving the car without the owner's permission. The boy was unconscious for five weeks while recovering in Princeton Hospital and suffered paralysis of the left arm and leg. When he regained consciousness, he had to learn to talk all over again.

Court Action. Two men were charged with disorderly conduct at Tuesday's court session over which Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro presided, while seven motorists were fined. Henry Hagerman, 150 Witherspoon Street, received a six-month suspended workhouse sentence and Bolling L. Robertson, Skillman, was fined $55 and given a 30-day suspended sentence. Both were charged with disorderly conduct while intoxicated.

Miss Susan Wright, 220 Mercer Street, paid a $25 fine for careless driving. Mrs. Malcolm Muir, 8 Newlin Road, was fined $10 for speeding, while Milton G. White, 124 Quaker Road, paid $7 for the same offense. Passing a "stop" sign cost Mrs. Florence Raubinger, 55 Battle Road, $4.

Short of Goal. The First Aid Unit has issued an appeal for contributions to its annual fund drive from late donors and persons who have not been contacted to date.

Contributions of $4,105 have been received during the month-old drive, according to Leonard F. Kraus, drive chairman. The sum represents less than half the amount asked for the support of

Obituaries

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Farran, 70, of Lakeview Avenue, Kingston, died October 17 in Princeton Hospital after a long illness. Wife of George A. Farran, she was a native of England and a former resident of Princeton.

The service was held at the Bodine Funeral Home. Burial was in Kingston Cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Reeve Martin, of 8 Evelyn Place, died October 13 at Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. Her husband, the Rev. Paul Martin, is the oldest living alumnus of Princeton University, a member of the Class of 1882.

The Rev. Mr. Martin is a former registrar and secretary of the faculty of Princeton University. A son and a brother also survive. The service was held at the First Presbyterian Church, followed by interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Nina Smallwood of 16 Green Street died October 15 in Princeton Hospital. She had been employed as a cook by Princeton Theological Seminary.

Widow of William Smallwood, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Holmes of Princeton, and eight grandchildren. The service was held in the Mt. Pisgah AME Church.

W. Miller Wardrop, 75, a resident of the Nassau Club, 6 Mercer Street, for a number of years following his retirement, died October 12 at the Belle Mead Sanatarium. He had been associated with the Pennsylvania Railroad for 40 years, retiring in 1938 as assistant to the general manager.

Mr. Wardrop was a native of Sewickley, Pa., and a graduate of Princeton University, Class of 1899. Two sons and a daughter survive. Services and interment were in Sewickley.

Open House at Hun. A weekly open house at the Hun School will be started on Sunday at 4 p.m. in the common room of the school administration building.

Mrs. Paul R. Chesebro and Mrs. Paul A. Furrer will serve together with mothers of students as hostesses for the weekly event. Friends of the school are invited to attend.

Church Column Started. Pages 11 and 12 of this issue of Town Topics carry a new column, "News of the Churches." It will appear each week in the future, serving the double purpose of presenting under a single heading news of religious activities that has been scattered through "Topics of the Town" in the past and providing as well the list of church services heretofore carried in the "Calendar of the Week."

The latter will continue to appear on page 16, offering a list of all events in the Princeton area that are open to the public. Contributions to both features will be welcome, as in the past, with a deadline of Tuesday noon.

Gregory Wins Contest. Gregory Buick of 368 Nassau Street received word this week that the firm had won a sales contest in competition with 30 other Buick dealers in the area from here to Newark. Over a period of 70 days, beginning August 1, the firm sold 37 cars.

Delwin Gregory, head of the organization, has won a trip to Nassau in recognition of the sales record. He plans to spend a week there early next year.

LAWRENCE NORRIS JOHN J. COLLINS

HIGHLY QUALIFIED CANDIDATES OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

LAWRIE NORRIS, 16 College Rd. W., born and raised in Princeton, Lawrie's associations with local government go back to her childhood when her father served several terms on the Borough Council. A sucessful business woman, she is familiar with the operation of the Borough Council as a result of frequent dealings with it concerning real estate transactions. She has obtained a broad knowledge of the problems of the Borough through her service as secretary of the Community Chest from 1950 through 1952 and as a member of the Council of Community Services.

JOHN COLLINS, 95 Jefferson Road. A resident of Princeton all his life, John is well known to local residents as a ticket agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and a successful business man in his own right. Long interested in local politics, he has been a candidate for the Borough Council in former years and would bring a wealth of experience and knowledge of the Borough problems to the Council.

Near East Delicacies. Mrs. T. Cuyler Young, who has spent many years in the Near East, will be guest consultant at the Y.W.C.A.'s International Cookery Class next Tuesday.

Using foods available in Princeton stores, Mrs. Young will prepare Persian, Turkish and East Indian variations of "pilau" and other recipes. The meeting will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at 202 Nassau Street.

The YW has also announced that its class for "Preparation in Citizenship" will begin this Thursday evening at 7:30 at the Nassau Street Elementary School. To be taught by Miss Jean Parpart, it is open to those interested in becoming naturalized who are nearing their fifth year in this country.

The first meeting of the new course called "Fix Yourself" will be held Tuesday night at 8 at 202 Nassau Street. Richard Huber, a graduate of Princeton now on its faculty, will lead an informal discussion on "those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our Christian faith," the YW has announced. Both men and women are invited to attend.

Rummage Sale. Final arrangements have been completed for the Princeton Hospital Aid Committe's annual fall rummage sale which will be held during the week of November 8-12 at the Chambers Street Firehouse.

Donntions may be brought to the Firehouse Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 5 hut only furniture will be sold. Wednesday from 11 to 5, shoes, toys, books, pictures, lamps and kitchenware will be sold while on Thursday from 9 to 5:30, clothing and other items will be placed on sale.

On Friday until 11 a final clearance will he held and from 11 to 12 charitable organizations may obtain unsold articles. Pick-up service for hulky ohjects will he available Monday and Tuesday of the sale, with details to be announced shortly.

"Swing Your Partners!" The Princeton Folk and Square Dancing Group is meeting Tuesday from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Miss Fine's School. Admission is 25 cents.

Teaching for beginners is conducted during the first two hours of the meetings. Persons interesting in ohtaining further information may call Mrs. Marcel Vinokur (1-0275-R.)

Employee Bonus. Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton this week presented bonus checks to all employees associated with the firm for more than a month. Those employed at least a year received amounts equivalent to two week's pay. Watches were also awarded to Mrs. Alethea Brown, Leslie Hannah, Miss Mary Hardy and Starr Northrop for ten years' service.

The corporation, which has approximately 70 employees, was established here in 1938 and serves companies and business associations in the field of attitude and opinion research. The research involves such fields as public and employee relations, product situations and marketing problems.

Dr. Hillier Returns. Dr. James Hillier, pioneer in the development and use of the electron microscope, has joined the research and engineering staff of the Radio Corporation of America as an administrative engineer at the David Sarnoff Research Center.

A native of Ontario, Dr. Hillier has been director of the research department of Melpar, Inc., a subsidiary of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, and was associated with R.C.A. Laboratories from 1940 to 1953. He has served as a research physicist and later as supervisor of fundamental electron microscope research.

Square Dance Planned. Members of the Mercer County 4-H Junior Leaders Association are planning a square dance for November 27 under the direction of their assistant agent, Miss Marilyn Fisher.

Committee chairmen include the Misses Katherine Tindall, Christine Voorhees, Barbara and Jean Stelljes, Geraldine Gieger, Nancy Fallon, Claire Muhs, Beverly Nutt, as well as Gordon Mackay, Charles Voorhees and Peter Casarico. Kenneth Tindall is general chairman of the dance.

Miscellany. Daughters have been born to Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rightmire, RD 1; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Carpenter, 75 Jefferson Road; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Brown, 56 Bayard Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Golden, RD 1,

News of the Churches

Campaign to Open. The formal opening of the fund-raising campaign to build a new St. Paul's Church will be marked this Sunday at the 8 a.m. Mass. Some 200 volunteers will attend the service, which will be presided over by the Rev. Edward C. Henry, pastor.

Joseph Stemmle, general chairman of the drive, announced this week that the memorial gifts committee has already received $219,622 in advance of the general solicitation of the parish. James Kerney, Jr. and Justus T. Vollbrecht head the committee.

In conjunction with the campaign to raise funds for a larger church to replace the present St. Paul's, an essay contest for school children has been planned. The title of the essay will be, "What St. Paul's New Church Will Mean to My Family."

Second Church Planning. The Second Presbyterian Church, which has completed its fund-raising campaign to meet the cost of an extension of the present building, is planning to let contracts for the work immediately after the first of the year.

The Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, pastor, reports that it is hoped that the extension will be available for use by the congregation in September of next year.

Joint Presbyterian Services. The Rev. Dr. George S. Mair, assistant to the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the joint Presbyterian vesper service Sunday at 5 in the First Church chapel.

The Rev. Dr. Paul L. Lehmann, professor of applied Christianity at Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the speaker at the Presbyterian evening service at 8 at the Witherspoon Church.

Missions Program. The second in the series of the School of Missions studies being held by the Princeton Methodist Church is scheduled for next Wednesday. The WSCS circle led by Mrs. Jessie Johnson and Mrs. Louise Palmer will serve a covered dish supper at 6 p.m. in the church social hall.

A film entitled "Fujita, Orphan in Japan" will be shown at 7:15, followed by a talk by the Rev. Keith W. Johnson on Japanese students. Mr. Johnson is on a year's leave as a missionary to Japan and is currently studying at Union Theological Seminary in New York.

REGULAR SERVICES

Christian Scientist. The Lesson-Sermon for services this Sunday will be "Probation After Death". Services will be held at 11 a.m. and 8:15 p.m. with Sunday School at 11. A testimonial meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 8:15.

FOR TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

JACK McCARTHY, 360 Jefferson Road. Born and raised in Princeton, Jack will be remembered by local residents as an outstanding captain of the Princeton University baseball team in former years. Holding degrees from Princeton University and the University of Pennsylvania Law School, he established his law offices in Princeton after World War II. His legal practice keeps him in daily contact with the many problems facing the local government.

BOB SINKLER, 307 Witherspoon Street. A resident of Princeton for over 15 years, Bob has served as a supervisor in the summer playground program in addition to his regular work as athletic trainer with Princeton University. He is a member of the Physical Education Committee of the Y.M.C.A. and is currently studying for a degree at the Rutgers University night school.

BUD TAMS, 136 Alexander Street. A resident of Princeton since his high school days, Bud was admitted to legal practice after attending the Rutgers University Law School. His work as a local attorney has kept him in constant touch with the problems of local government. He is secretary of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A., Chairman, Troop Committee 42, Boy Scouts of America, and active in Community Chest solicitation.

The Ghosts of Neglect Are Costly

That leaky roof may cost you a couple of cracked ceilings. Putting off a needed paint job will cause serious damage to exterior wood surfaces. Shrinking woodwork can shift the entire structure of your house.

Watch these danger spots and call us at the first sign of damage. We'll recommend top quality materials that will do the best job at bottom prices. If you wish, we'll put you in touch with reliable workmen.

Check your house TODAY—before rising costs make repairs costly, if not impossible.

Paint protects and beautifies your home with a gleaming armor that lasts for years. Paint up now with B.P.S. for that "spanking new" look.

Lots of people who "pine" for more gracious living, are modernizing with our Knotty Pine Sheetrock. They do the work themselves, so they can enjoy "model rooms" at budget cost.

Insulation is a "must" for a comfortable, economically run home. Have a Grover represeneative examine your home and recommend the type best suited to your needs.

Why I Plan to Vote

REPUBLICAN

By MARTHA R. HOLMES

As a result of the recent irresponsible and vicious attacks on the character and family of Clifford P. Case I feel moved to set down the points which have influenced me to give my wholehearted support to his candidacy.

In the coming election we find the Republican Party facing a critical test. Although President Eisenhower's name is not on the ballot, he is very much in it. His administration must have the continued support of the voters and a Republican Congress this November. We will be insuring such a course if we elect Clifford P. Case.

Clifford Case is an intense supporter of basic Republican philosophies (philosophies which are poles apart from those of Democrats); he belives in the principle that government should play a part in the domestic economy only when the job faced is one which cannot be handled by private enterprise alone. His record in Congress shows him to be a leader in the fight against the insidious influences which are constantly trying to undermine our government from within and without.

He was instrumental in the drafting of the Mundt-Nixon Anti-Subversive bill, just one of many facts which discredit the recent ridiculous allegations of the irresponsible; that diabolical legion of ferocious egotists who call themselves Republicans while perching like vultures at the far right ready to scuttle the party in order to command the wreck.

Mr. Case is a serious, thoughtful, positive thinking man who will lend dignity to the office of Senator. Mr. Case's independence of thought and adherence to purpose mark him as a man who will serve with a conscience—his own conscience, that is, not one of a group of politicians. He is a strong personal candidate who stands squarely before issues and has taken command of the difficult situations engendered by the recent blasphemous attacks.

From having heard him speak, I am particularly impressed by his obvious intelligence and integrity. I think it is a privilege to be able to vote for a man of his calibre. We will find that his presence in the Senate will be something of which all New Jersey can be proud.

DEMOCRATIC

By J. SHANE NICHOLLS, JR.

In considering an applicant for any position, sound procedure dictates a painstaking appraisal of the candidate—as a man.

Experts in this field agree, that the primary consideration in such an appraisal is character. Following are some basic questions to which there must be positive and unequivocal answers:

1. Is he intellectually honest?
2. Has he been diligent in the pursuit of the principles he considers worthy and honorable?
3. Has he defended and preserved these principles with courage and tenacity?

Over the past several years I have found the answer to these questions as they relate to Mr. Howell. And that answer is a positive and unequivocal "Yes" to each of the preceeding interrogations.

Character, of and by itself, is not enough; a candidate must have intelligence and a record of outstanding achievement in his chosen field of endeavor.

Webster defines intelligence as "the power or act of understanding." On this qualification I would give Mr. Howell an exceptionally high rating.

As to outstanding achievement a perusal of the following record is all that is needed:

1. Elected to the New Jersey House of Assembly from Mercer County in 1944.
2. In 1948 Mr. Howell was elected to the United States Congress by the largest winning majority of any candidate of either party in his district.
3. In the Congressional election of 1952, Mr. Howell won by the largest number of votes ever cast for any candidate in any election in the history of his Congressional district.
4. As Democratic State Chairman until 1954. Charles R. Howell was influential and constructive in the formation of the new and vigorous Democratic leadership in this state. Governor Meyner's administration certainly furnishes ample evidence of the type of government Mr. Howell stands for.
5. Character, intelligence and experience are vital qualifications, but again they are not enough. These attributes without consistent hard work are merely desirable ornaments.

During his term in the Congress Mr. Howell has achieved the reputation of being a real work horse. Notwithstanding his ceaseless and effective efforts, he has a record of attendance of better than 93% on roll-calls.

A forthright and unaffected personality is also a desirable qualification. Perhaps the best description one could give of Mr. Howell's personality would be in the words of Francis Bacon who once said, "Virtue is like a rich stone—best plain set."

Mr. Howell is a direct descendant of Christopher Howell, one of Trenton's earliest settlers. His antecedents have held public office with honor and distinction for many generations.

Mr. Howell has won my support not only because of his preeminent qualifications but also because he has shown an independence of mind by departing from strict party lines and voting for the legislation he considers best for his constituents and his country.

Charles R. Howell is a rugged American, steeped in the best traditions of his country and unselfishly dedicated to the defense and preservation of this sacred trust.

As a Republican, I have given Mr. Howell my wholehearted support.

Music in Princeton

(Editor's Note: The University Concerts during the 1954-55 season will be reviewed for TOWN TOPICS by Jack Urbont, a graduate student in music at Princeton University.)

Fine Start for New Season. It was a rare privilege to hear Irmgard Seefried perform songs of Mozart, Schubert, Wolf and Bartok. Rare, because Miss Seefried works as a leading soprano at the Vienna State Opera Company and does not often make international tours; a privilege, because her performance was a superb blending of a naturally rich voice, a deep expressiveness, a precise technique and a commanding stage presence.

Her presentation in McCarter Theatre last week was especially gratifying because she was able to enter into the individual world of each song and convey its particular mood and meaning with clarity and artistic truth. Her controlled subjectivity and her awareness of the inner life of each song enabled her to achieve a personal level of communication with the audience. It was like listening to someone who spoke about a feeling she had actually experienced, rather than heard or read about; the difference between the pure blaze of a flame and the artificial glow of an electric light-bulb.

Moreover, Miss Seefried was able to capture the stylistic essence of each composer. Mozart's songs, whether the powerful "Als Luise Die Briefe" or the delicate "Die Verschigung," were executed with the carefully chisled precision of a classic-Greek statue.

An atmosphere of raw outdoor virility pervaded the delivery of most of Bartok's Cycle of Slovak Folk Songs. It is a tribute to Miss Seefried's artistry that the audience, after she sang Bartok's "Wiegenlied Lullaby," was breathlessly silent and could not applaud.

This was the only song in the whole recital that the audience did not applaud. And this was right! For a polite sprinkling of applause following this lullaby would have been as clog-headed as a lack of enthusiastic applause after a fine rendition of Wolf's "Nimmersatte Liebe."

The dramatic intensity which is necessary to interpret many of Hugo Wolf's songs was admirably present in Miss Seefried's performance, and her treatment of the King of Song, Schubert, was incontravertably right. Happily, the audience received Schubert's "Die Forelle" and Standchen" by Strauss as encores.

If this first concert in the second series of Princeton University Concerts is setting the standard for the rest of the year, then Princeton concert-goers may anticipate a splendid season, indeed!

Coming Events. The date of the concert by Marian Anderson under the sponsorship of the Friendship Club of Princeton has been changed because of Miss Anderson's commitment with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The new date is January 24 at 8:30 in McCarter theatre. Tickets are on sale at Hinkson's for the concert, which will benefit the various charitable enterprises of the Friendship Club.

Also coming up is the second in Series Two of the University Concerts, Mieceslav Horzowski, piano, and Alexander Schneider, violin, will be heard Wednesday, November 3, at 8:30 in the McCarter. Tickets will be on sale a week in advance.

The Central Jersey Links are sponsoring a recital by Adele Anderson on Friday, November 18, at 8:15 p.m. in Miss Fine's School. Proceeds will be turned over to a service organization in Princeton.

IF YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS, the best way to show your appreciation is to mention it to our advertisers.

A Tradition Through the Years . . .

For many years, gracious living in English-speaking lands has included the delightful custom of afternoon tea. It is widely popular as a pleasant lull in the day's activities that caters both to friendship and health-giving relaxation.

Here at the Princeton Inn, afternoon tea is served daily from 3:30 to 5:30 in the Lounge for you and your friends. The menu offers a delightful selection of all that has made the occasion such a welcome tradition.

Come be our guests . . . frequently!

McCARTER THEATRE

Interest is running high and tickets selling rapidly for the outstanding and unusual ballet event scheduled for next week at the McCarter. The 15th anniversary season of Ballet Theatre, this country's leading ballet company, will be launched with programs on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8:30.

Special programs have been arranged for both nights. They are designed so that all of the company's stars will appear both evenings, and in addition, the programs include the fullest range of new and classic ballets.

Igor Youskevitch, Nora Kaye and John Kriza head the company, whose other stars are Ruth Ann Koesun, Eric Braun, Lupe Serrano and Erik Bruhn. Lucia Chase, who with Richard Pleasant founded the famous company in 1939, is the director of Ballet Theatre.

An extra feature of Tuesday's opening night performance will be the first appearance of Valerie Bettis dancing in the leading role of her own ballet "A Streetcar Named Desire." Mr. Youskevitch has accepted for the first time an acting-dancing role in the modern type of dramatic ballet and will be seen as Stanley (the Marlon Brando role in the Tennessee Williams play).

Two Programs. In addition to "Streetcar," Tuesday's program will include "Les Sylphides," which was the first work performed by the Ballet Theatre 15 years ago; the pas de deux "Black Swan," and "Interplay" by the noted American choreographer Jerome Robbins, who was one of the first young dancers to become a member of the corps de ballet in the company's initial season.

On Wednesday, "Swan Lake," one of Ballet Theatre's first great successes, will be on the program, along with Leonide Massine's newly-restaged "Mlle. Angot," "Rodeo" by Agnes deMille will complete the evening.

Miss deMille was also a member of the original company and received her first recognition in this country as a choreographer when Ballet Theatre commissioned "Black Ritual." Nora Kaye and John Kriza, two of the world's ranking dancers, were also members of the first Ballet Theatre Company.

BALLET IN McCARTER: John Kriza will be seen with the Ballet Theatre dancers next Tuesday and Wednesday.

MURRAY THEATRE

Though a production (only the second in this country) of Jean-Paul Sartre's controversial war drama, "The Victors," will be Theatre Intime's major fall offering, the University theatrical organization is currently opening the season with a reading of "Murder in the Cathedral" at the Murray Theatre on Campus.

The T.S. Eliot verse drama is being read as an informal, experimental production, designed to give freshmen an early chance at Intime work. Open to the public without charge, "Murder in the Cathedral" will be done nightly through Saturday at 8:30.

Four area residents are taking part in reading Eliot's account of the life and martyrdom

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

of Thomas a Becket, 12th century Archbishop of Canterbury. They are Miss Judy MacMahon of 153 Snowden Lane, Miss Elleeo Heupel, Mrs. Louis G. Brewster and Mrs. Juan Gonzalez of Washington Road, all of whom compose the chorus.

Jon J. Masters is in the title role. Direction is by Alexander C. McNally, vice-president of Intime, while symbolic sets have been done by Dan G. Donaghy. The reading is being given in evening dress.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

Donald Wood in the hit melodrama "Dial M for Murder" is the current attraction at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. The play may be seen through Saturday evening at the barn theatre.

Christione Felsmann, Denis Green, Bethell Lang and Bruce Jewell are also featured in the Frederick Knott thriller about an embezzler who hires a man to kill his wife. Billy Matthews has directed the production.

The next world premiere on the Bucks County Playhouse fall schedule will be a comedy about the family of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. The title is "The Shoemaker's Children" and the authors are Phoebe and Henry Ephron.

"Shoemaker's Children" will open Monday for a run of a week. There are matinees on Wednesday and Saturday at 2 p.m.

Dorothy Stickney will be starred in the "Mrs. Roosevelt" role. The plot centers on the domestic and political strands which interweave in the operation of her home and family.

In support of Miss Stickney will be Kevin McCarthy as a young lawyer seeking political help; Patricia Breslin as her daughter, and Efrom Zimbalist Jr. (son of the film producer) as a Hollywood director making use of the family name. The play is scheduled to open in New York on December 3.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Woman's World (Oct. 21-26) has the sharp-tongued Clifton Webb presiding over the selection of an executive manager for his automobile manufacturing company. He studies the prospects (Van Heflin, Fred MacMurray, Cornel Wilde) by studying their wives. (Arlene Dahl, June Allyson, Lauren Bacall.) A tour of Manhattan with lots of witty patter provides a setting for the elaborately-produced drama-comedy. Color, CinemaScope. Completing a week.

Sabrina (Oct. 27 - Nov. 2) has had nothing but raves and deserves them. It's a miraculous exhibition of the way in which talented filmakers (Billy Wilder, in this case) can take the Cinderella story and produce captivating entertainment. Starring is the comedy-romance about a chauffeur's daughter are the wonderful Audrey Hepburn, Humphrey Bogart and William Holden. Here for a week.

IN NEW PLAY: Dorothy Stickney will appear in "The Shoemaker's Children," which will have its world premiere Monday at New Hope.

THE GARDEN

Gambler From Natchez (Oct. 22, 23) is a gaudy Grade-B, with cards, pistols, swordplay, New Orleans 1850, Technicolor and other regular features of this kind of production. Dale Robertson sets out to prove that his gambling daddy was a good gambler and not a cheater. Debra Paget assists.

Adventures of Marco Polo (Oct. 25-26) is an oldie that this department missed. The stars are Gary Cooper, Basil Rathbone, Sigrid Gurie, Binnie Barnes, Ernest Truex and Alan Hale.

The 39 Steps (Oct. 27-28) is one of Alfred Hitchcock's most famous mystery thrillers, a real heart-pounder. Robert Donat, Madeline Carroll and Godfrey Tearle are featured in the super-suspense re-issue.

Private Hell 36 (Oct. 29-30) explores in most routine fashion the theme, "crime doesn't pay." It's another in the recent flood of cop-goes-crooked-to-get - money - to-get-girl films. The principals are Steve Cochran, Ida Lupino, Howard Duff and Dean Jagger.

Future research engineers may be interested in a radio station for $6.95 that sends, receives, blinks its search light and autodecodes. Radio kits include a one-tube model for $7.95 and the usual crystal kits.

In the section devoted to small children's toys we liked best a set of heavy brick-pointed cardboard blocks, that can be used as construction tools for many years. A set of 12 blocks 4 x 4 inches is $1.95. A set of 12 blocks 12 x 6 x 4 inches is $5.95.

When you visit Pastimes, don't fail to look at the miniature tiger rugs like the big ones of last year. There are $1.95 for a 12-inch cub with a zipper on his underside. Just big enough for a toothbrush.

A Portrait of Your Child . . . can be the most enduring reminder of his youth and charm. Mrs. Julia Kuehnemund, well-known in Princeton for her art work, is now making pastels of children and two examples of her work are on display at The Little Gallery, 39 Palmer Square West.

Mrs. Kuehnemund requires only two or three sittings to complete a 16 x 20 inch pastel of your child. The price is $75, and you may arrange for the portrait through The Little Gallery.

Cornell's Difficulty a Puzzle. Princetonians disappointed over their football team's one-point loss Saturday to Brown at Providence need but glance in the direction of Ithaca, N. Y., to see real sorrow over a college's gridiron fortunes. Picked to retain its Ivy League title and to finish the season with a record at least as good as seven and two, Cornell has yet to win a game.

What has happened to the Red as it moves toward Palmer Stadium for its fifth start of the year Saturday afternoon at 2 is still pretty much of a mystery. Some of the trouble became evident early, when ineligibility rulings forced two good ends out of action and injuries likewise weakened the line.

But backfield ability is there in known quantity and a good sophomore crop came along to fill the gaps caused by the departure of a dozen lettermen. Figured to rank as the favorite over every team on its schedule save Rice, Cornell has experienced one nightmare after another, losing to Colgate, 19-14; Rice, 41-20; Harvard, 13-12; and Yale last weekend, 47-21.

The Ithacans climbed aboard the Pennsylvania Railroad train at New York last week that was taking the Princeton squad to Rhode Island, and the two teams rode on adjacent cars. Word came back from the Cornell camp that they were taking 26 players to New Haven, 22 of whom were in topflight condition.

It was, accordingly, no major surprise that Yale rolled in the second half of the game to pile up the biggest score against the Red in the modern era of their series. The Elis are deep; Cornell, its morale understandably low, is not.

Somewhere along the line, the Ithacans will realize their potential and get on the victory trail as originally expected. In Dick Jackson and Dick Meade they have a pair of experienced, fast-running halfbacks, while 196-lb. Guy Bedrossian is a better than average fullback. Bill DeGraaf runs Coach Lefty James' T; it was his quarterbacking as a sophomore that helped the New Yorkers trim Princeton, 26-19, last fall and take a big step toward the Ivy title.

Up front, Cornell has a 204-lb. line that will have eight to ten pounds on Princeton. If a pair of veterans, end Tom Rooney and 205-lb. guard Jim Van Buren, return to action as expected, the visitors will be better off than they have been any time this season.

Martin Lost at Fullback. Hoping to trim an opponent that, a month ago, had been heavily favored to win here, Princeton still has many problems of its own. Newest of the batch is the injury to fullback Dick Martin, who will be out of action with a shoulder separation. Hurt on the kickoff that opened the second half, the 180-lb. fullback will definitely miss the Cornell game and possibly Colgate next Saturday.

Lack of ability to use the same blocking back consistently has also bothered the Tigers, particularly in their running attack. There is some chance that Frank Cosentino, who has played only against Columbia, will be ready this weekend. John Futhey, his immediate replacement, has been bothered a good part of the time with a bad ankle.

With Martin out, a pair of juniors, 180-lb. Jack Kraus and 165-lb. Sid Pinch, are the primary fullback replacements. Neither was a fullback last year, leaving the Tigers somewhat inexperienced at the position from which bucks through the middle of the line must keep the defense from overshifting to stop Royce Flippin and Bill Agnew around the ends.

First Loss at Providence. Princeton gave the impression at Providence that it might have won the game a number of times but when the final whistle sounded, Brown could prove that it just had. The winning touchdown came in the last minute and 50 seconds, a 41-yard run by Captain Ev Pearson climaxing an 80-yard drive. Brown's third conversion of the day gave it a 21-20 victory, the first it had scored over the Orange and Black at Providence since the series began in 1898.

Throughout the contest, the Tigers frequently gave the impression that they were about to take charge but never quite did. They came from behind deficits of 7-6 and 14-13, and then drove toward another touchdown that would have given them a 13-point spread with six minutes left.

Bill Agnew took the ball into the end zone to climax a 46-yard march but a penalty for illegal use of the hands nullified the score and three downs later, Dick Martin's attempted field goal from the six yard line was low and wide to the left. Brown's 80-yard scoring effort followed immediately to remove the Tigers from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Princeton's primary trouble was with its defense. Brown ran for 221 yards, with Archie Williams, Ev Pearson and Vin Jazwinski averaging five to nine yards per carry. With quarterback Pete Kohut pitching in highly able fashion, the Bruins gained

It Can't Happen Here

Weekend stories on the Yale-Cornell football game at New Haven made much of the fact that tradition was broken in the Yale Bowl when a woman covered the game from the press box for the first time. She is Miss Anne Morrissey, first woman to hold the job of sports editor on the Cornell Daily Sun.

But in Palmer Stadium this Saturday, Princeton's 40-year old ban on women reporters will hold good. It has been pointed out politely by athletic officials that "Miss Morrissey is by no means the first woman to request admission to the press box as a reporter and the rule will continue in effect."

TIGER TAILBACK CIRCLES BROWN END: Despite Princeton's loss at Providence, Royce Flippin had a good day against the Bruins. He was credited with 163 yards and scored two touchdowns, raising his total to seven. He leads the Ivy League in this department.

SPORTS IN PRINCETON

119 yards in the air, Kohut's eight completions in 13 tries averaging better than a dozen yards apiece.

There are only two seniors in Princeton's starting lineup these days (Captain John Henn at center and guard Richie Herbruck), and the natural lack of experience some of the others show means that Princeton will be scored upon fairly often. Three touchdowns may not be enough to win most of the games the Tigers have left on their schedule.

While the outcome wasn't to Princetonians' liking, the game itself was a see-saw, dramatic affair that saw the teams trade touchdowns six times during the afternoon. Two pre-game showers had left the field soggy but the total of 650-plus yards gained by the two opponents went to show that the footing wasn't as bad as it looked.

The home forces drove 82 yards in 10 plays for their first touchdown, scored on an 18-yard pass play completed just inside the end zone by end Harry Jesephson. Jazwinski kicked the point; six minutes later, Princeton had covered 65 yards in nine plays (aided by a 30-yard penalty for pass interference) but Martin missed the point and that, eventually, meant the decision for Brown.

Quick Turnabout. Midway through the second period, Brown had the ball on the Princeton two, third and goal to go; two plays later, is was Princeton that had a touchdown. Martin diagnosed a Kohut pass into the right flat and ran from three yards behind his own goal line to the Bruins' 34. Flippin then sliced through right tackle and went the distance. This time, Martin's kick was good and it was 13-7 for the Tigers.

A fourth-down gamble and a costly fumble served to give the lead back to Brown soon after the third period opened. Taking the second half kickoff, the ball was on the 43, fourth and one to go. Flippin went back to punt but called for reserve fullback Jack Kraus to huck for the necessary yard. The latter dropped the pass from center and Brown had a 14-13 lead eight plays later.

Princeton's final score came at the 11-minute mark in the same round. Dick Frye came in to replace Flippin with the ball on the Brown 17 and threw a hullet pass to John Watson, the sophomore quarterback shaking off a tackler as he covered the last seven yards. Joe Di Renzo hooted the point to make it 20-14.

Midway through the final period, the Tigers went 46 yards without once resorting to a pass as they began to cut up the Brown line visibly. Agnew was running well on the wingback reverse, and went over from four yards out, presumably putting the ball game beyond reach. A call for illegal use of the hands cancelled the TD, however, and three downs later, Martin's attempted field goal was wide, giving Brown the ball on its 20. The Rhode Islanders went on to win, very nearly duplicating their last victory over Princeton, scored in 1948 on a field goal with just 16 seconds to go.

Cornell Could Win. It should be quite unlikely that Cornell will recover sufficiently to make Princeton its first victim, but the outcome is by no means a foregone conclusion. A stronger line (which the return of Rooney and Van Buren would mean for the Ithacans) is their main need; the fast backfield seems certain to break loose sooner or later this season.

Bothered by the loss of Martin (he will be available for points-after-touchdown but not for contact), Princeton may have trouble with its running game. The passing improved at Providence after the unexpectedly poor showing against Pennsylvania, but is not yet the threat it must be to balance well with the ground attack. The Tigers should win, but it may be close.

Princeton High Wins Again. While Princeton lost by a single point, Princeton High School's football team kept on rolling with a triumph by the same margin, Friday's contest with Trenton High School was blown out by the approaching hurricane but when the postponed affair was held here Monday afternoon, Coach Joe Jingoli's Little Tigers chalked up a 14-13 triumph.

The victory was their fourth this season and their second in defense of the Mercer County championship. They tackle Trenton Catholic on the latter's field this Saturday at 2.

Exchanging fumbles with Trenton High in the shadow of the PHS goal posts early in the first period, the Blue and White marched 97 yards to its first touchdown. Eight plays did the trick, passes eating up most of the yardage.

The score came on an 18-yard aerial from Bob Montgomery to Marv Trotman. The first of two placements by tackle Barry Kessler followed as eventual insurance for the slim victory.

The Little Tigers moved out to a two-touchdown lead midway through the third period. Trotman's 43-yard punt return to the Trenton High 14 set up the score.

Al Terry carried twice for four yards and Montgomery then swept around end for the TD. A second Kessler conversion followed, but Trenton High struck back to reverse the complexion of the game quickly.

The visitors returned the kickoff to their own 40 and proceeded to march the remaining 60 yards in nine plays. Danny Chesten's end run of 22 yards climaxed the drive, Cap Crossland then taking the ball over on a quarterback sneak. The try for point in the form of a pass was no good, with Trenton's inability to connect on a dozen aerials telling much of the story of the game. Its only completion was the conversion for its second p.a.t., and by then it was too late.

Backed up on its own one-yard line early in the final period, PHS kicked and was in trouble when the ball was returned to its 18.

A pitchout to Dan Chesten covered the final six yards, but the extra point only made it closer. There was no time to escape the final verdict.

Hun Seeks First Victory. The Hun School football team takes on Morristown School this Friday at Morristown in quest of its first triumph of the campaign.

The Red and Black, undaunted by Hurricane Hazel, dropped its second straight decision Friday to Bryn Athyn on the victors' field by a 21-0 count. The Johnnie Huns bucked the strong winds and a talented Bryn Athyn squad but lost their second in a row while still looking for a scoring punch.

PCD Splits. Princeton Country Day School won its first soccer game of the season last Thursday, trimming West Windsor on the latter school's field, 1-0. The score was deadlocked at halftime, PCD winning when forward Jeb Stuart scored on a hard shot early in the third period.

The Blue and White booters, coached by Herbert McAneny, took on Lawrence Junior High this week and will play a return game against Valley Road next Tuesday. Before this week's game, their record was 1-3.

Four touchdowns by Wister Silver of Solebury were responsible for defeat of the PCD six-man football team by a 31-13 count. Andy Kerr and Roger Holt scored for Country Day, which played Lambertville here this week and will go to Solebury Tuesday.

"Thank You, Mr. Edison"!
says Reddy Kilowatt
Seventy-five years ago, on October 21, 1879, Thomas A. Edison was successful in the creation of the first practical incandescent lamp. As a result of his invention, which was completed in Edison's laboratory at Menlo Park, New Jersey, the great electric industry was born.
This year, together with other electric companies, Public Service is celebrating Light's Diamond Jubilee. Today, thanks to Mr. Edison, we live in the Electric Era.
Tomorrow we may be living in the Atomic Age. Atomic power will probably serve the nation first through the versatile medium of electricity. Its future in the world, impossible to calculate now, may well be tremendous.
Public Service is working with 26 participating companies in the Dow Chemical-Detroit Edison group, which is one of many groups in the country which have been working toward the practical application of atomic energy for the generation of electric power.
Public Service is constantly developing new plans, new ideas and new programs to improve and enlarge its electric service for you.
During Light's Diamond Jubilee, as well as in future years, electricity does so much . . . costs so little.
Write for a copy of the new book, "The Genie in the Amber Box", which tells of the development of the electric industry. Write Room 8315, Public Service Electric and Gas Co., 80 Park Place, Newark 1, N. J.

IT'S NEW TO US

The Gallery is also offering a collection of water-colors for only $7.50 each. These are originals, done by H. Lee Hirsche. Most of them are marines, executed in a clean and sweeping technique that is most evocative of the sea. The colors are greyed shades of blue or grey itself and browns are used with grey to great effect.

One seascape has a deep lemon yellow in strong slants that suggest the sun. Most of these little scenes are modern with a suggestion of the abstract, and fine black lines that underscore the colors. They are about 4 by 6 inches, not counting a mat.

Some Christmas cards are here now that weren't here when we covered the subject some weeks ago. Look at The Gallery's humorous cards — the one that shows Santa struggling up an impossible peak to a cottage on top; a man standing in a storm of geometric snow-flakes, a reindeer stuck in a chimney top.

Other cards use geometric forms that suggest Christmas trees, snowflakes or stars. "Jesters" is a card that doesn't suggest, but comes right out and says so: two realistic Jesters cavort on the front, and repeat their dance on the back.

Ropes of Baroque. Necklaces at The Clothes Line, 53 Palmer Square West, are long and waiting to be looped. They are designed by Carolyn Schnurer for Charles Rose and they consist of gold chains interrupted every three or four inches by baroque pearls.

A baroque pearl is merely a pearl that is neither round, square nor oval but a combination of all three. Looks rather, if The Clothes Line will pardon us, as though it had been stepped on. These necklaces are five feet long and cost $6. Matching earrings (one pearl) are $3.

On the same table there is a wide flexible gold mesh bracelet to wear on your upper arm, a rigid gold bracelet to wear wherever it fits and a chain necklace spotted with small amber beads in various shades of yellow that go extremely well with the gold chain. This one is $6. A matching bracelet is $4.

Jumpers in this shop are wool, done in plaids or black tweed (full or slim skirt), purple flannel or a charcoal that looks like Oxford. They go from $10.95 to $28.95.

Tweed Bermuda shorts are in greys and browns, lined for comfort and cut with fly fronts or side plackets. (Tweed Bermudas this year are $10.95, against $14.95 for last year). There is a pleasant blue in this shorts collection, dark, but less so than navy.

On the blouse rack we found many flowered cottons, imported from England, and cut with long or short sleeves. They are fresh prints like calicos, or strong dark stripes. One is black with hearts, flowers and a Louis XIV sun face. A glowing cotton challis is a heart-warming yellow with scattered flowers for $5.95. The imported shirts are $10.95.

Next time there's a storm, be prepared with a Lady MacIntosh complete with hat. Coat, with its quiet plaid lining and fly-front closing, is $29.95. Hat is designed with wide or narrow brim for $5.50 or $6.50.

Slick Schick. The new custom-Schick razor that has made the rounds of television and magazine ads, is now at Tiger Auto, 26 Witherspoon, with its trim leather case and $28.95 price tag. Near by is a useful traveling companion for the Schick: the G.E. travel iron that is steam or dry, depending on whether you use the attachable bulb.

For home outlets, try a Sunbeam controlled heat frying pan that has a dial to guarantee good cooking. Set it for bacon, eggs, pancakes or whatever and it will cook just so. When you're ready to wash it, immerse the whole pan in water right up to the control. Costs $24.95 and makes a splendid wedding gift.

Students in the family may do homework with more pleasure if you buy a student light and bookrack, all welded together. The rack is adjustable, and there is a small shelf above the light to hold books that are waiting for their next assignment. The lamp holds two bulbs and the whole fixture is $10.95.

A new TV lamp clock has luminous colored numerals (plain and luminous if you prefer, and we do). The clock has no dial—it shows only hours and minutes and its case glows in the dark, too, providing night light as well as TV light.

GIVE THE UNITED WAY

Life is very complex. It's tough to face sometimes even for those of us in good health and with no apparent need for worry.

But we're lucky. Look around and see how so many others are in need of help. Young and old, the blind and crippled — those beset by tragic forces beyond their power to prevent.

Yes, October is the month for giving — and to be thankful that we can give, and not be on the receiving end.

Help those who need help most... Give Generously to your

A true

true to every color in fashion

Here's the lipstick you've been begging for since you first began to use make-up! It's a clear, true red that loves everything you wear, that sparkles a smile a minute. And the texture! It lasts but never dries; softens and shimmers like a cream but without a trace of grease. Wear-With-All Red is an American Look Cosmetic specially created by Helena Rubinstein to glorify the happy, natural looks seen on girls across the country. Yours to wear 365 days a year.
